Youth Work Labs (3 November 2020)

Youth Work Labs are designed to provide a dynamic space for sharing, innovating and co-creating within the youth work domain. The labs will be organised as a monthly activity bringing youth workers, youth work associations, young people, practitioners, academics etc together to deliberate, brainstorm, ideate and co-create.

The first Youth Work Lab will be launched on 3 November 2020 during YWW 2020. The first lab will explore a set of inspiring, innovative games and projects for social change. These innovations in the youth work space will be deliberated for further adaptation and contextualisation through an interactive session.

Online Course on Youth Work Practice, Launch (6 November 2020)

Learning and Leadership journeys in Youth Work Practice Course is a flexible yet deeply reflective and practical transformational learning journey for youth workers to strengthen youth centric development in the Commonwealth. The course aims to address some of the contextual needs of youth workers, youth work associations and youth led organisations by developing core competencies to design, lead, and implement strategies for deepening youth intervention(s) and engagement.

The launch event will serve as an introduction to the online course scheduled to begin in January 2021. The session will take the participants through the scope of the course and provide a teaser for the Learning and Leadership journeys in Youth Work Practice Online Course.
